Flavours offers fresh opportunities for people to get a taste of Dorset's outstanding landscape, where food is the focus for a season of taster activities; inviting ethnically diverse communities to explore the landscape around them - sometimes for the first time, using food as the unifier.

Thank you for the very cool opportunity to go the farm! I really enjoyed riding the tractor with the gentle breeze, looking at the castle from the distance and the cows up close. Also, a big thank you for the great exercise at the top and the delicious food made with love.

It was very interesting to hear something about the farm and learning something new for myself.'

'I loved picking the fresh fruit, so good!'

'This day was so lovely. I wasn't going to come because my head is full of stress but I am so glad I came. So nice to get out into the fresh air and away from my problems. I feel so much better for coming'.

'So nice, thank you very much. Nice to be in the countryside with beautiful view. I never leave Bournemouth. This is new for me'

Our next Flavours journey took us to Middlebere Farm with Grace the Space and the International Care Network - who help to rebuild the lives of refugees, asylum seekers and vulnerable migrants across Bournemouth and Dorset.

Our visit was hosted by Farmers
Jake & Chrissie Hancock
